Dear Mr. Weisberg:

It was good to hear from you lately about your plans to release new information on the JFK assassination.

As you know, this is not a topic that I personally have followed in great detail. But when you have pulled together your package and can give us the backup material to go along with your general comments, we'd be glad to have it. And we want to be kept informed of your plans for the press conference.

It is a great, great shame that Mo Waldron is not still here with us to pursue the story, and simply to share his energy and vitality with us. His death was a real loss that I'm sure you felt as we did.

I hope that your health improves. Thanks for writing.

Sincerely,

Hedrick L. Smith
